

This French site VoIMX has just been translated into English. This site has a one goal: fight against the theft of dirtbikes. Some English sites already manage lists of stolen motorcycle but the consultation of ads is not very effective.

With VoIMX :

- The last 5 ads of the country of connection are highlighted on every page of the site
- The last 5 ads of the other countries (soon to neighboring countries) are also highlighted
- The entire list of ads is quickly accessible with the menu "All Contents"
- Quick search by numerous criteria (brand, year, No Frame, No Motor ...).

So that this site performs its objective, here is some ideas to use this site:

- Before buying a used bike, get out the list of motorcycles stolen from identical characteristics not to contribute to the traffic of the stolen motorcycles. If resale becomes more difficult, fewer thefts will be ...
 - If you are a dealer, and have any doubt of the origin of a motorcycle ...
 - If a motorcycle was found, do a search on the site will perhaps find its owner. Otherwise send me photos, I will publish an article.

For any comments, suggestions or mistranslation, contact the webmaster at the following address: volmx.fr@gmail.com

Press review

Written by Administrator

Wednesday, 16 September 2009 00:00 - Last Updated Wednesday, 05 January 2011 22:29

Article of 09.12.2009. Extract: « More than a website, Volmx.fr is a tool to increase the chances of finding his bike after a theft »

Joomla SEO powered by JoomSEF